1

SHOP THE TOP 10

Put your cover next to the best sellers in your category. Does it belong on that shelf? If not, that's your starting point.

2

MAKE IT

READABLE

SMALL

Most readers see your cover as a tiny thumbnail. If the title can't be read at that size, it won't get the click.

3

ONE

FOCAL POINT

Pick one thing for the eye to land on.
Limit yourself to two fonts. Cluttered covers look amateur fast.

4

GET THE SPECS RIGHT

Spine width and bleed have to match your page count and paper. Wrong specs mean cropped text and a cover that looks off in print.

5

SIGNAL YOUR GENRE

Colors, imagery and type tell readers what kind of book this is in a second. Mixed signals lose the click.

WANT A SECOND PAIR OF EYES?

Book a free consultation. No pitch.
I'll look at your cover and manuscript and tell you honestly what to do next.
